MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

VIA: Deputy Director of Central Intelligence

FROM:
Director, Intelligence Community Staff

STAT

SUBJECT: Establishment of a Selection Committee for the DCI
Exceptional Intelligence Analyst Program for FY 1983

1. On 17 May 1982, you signed a memo inviting NFIB members to nominate analysts for participation in the Exceptional Intelligence Analyst Program for 1983. We expect to receive those nominations by 1 October, and have them ready for review during the latter part of that month.

2. Selection Committees have in the past contained representatives of the Directors of CIA, DIA, INR, and NSA. Letters inviting each to do the same this year are attached for your signature. The chairmanship of the Selection Committee traditionally has rotated among the members; NSA appears to be next in line to serve.

3. We recommend that you sign the attached letters inviting the four agencies to participate in, and NSA to chair, the Selection Committee.

Dear Jim:

Last year, [] represented DIA on the Selection Committee for the DCI's Exceptional Intelligence Analyst Program. The 15 analysts he helped select have begun their various projects, and it is time again to prepare to choose their successors for 1983. To accomplish this, I propose that we replicate last year's Committee which also included representation from CIA, INR, and NSA. STAT

I would like to impose on you once again to appoint a representative to the Committee. In keeping with the tradition of rotating the chairmanship, I have asked NSA to serve in that position. I would like to see the Committee meet in late-October.

Please respond to [] Intelligence Community Staff, STAT

[] He will be able to provide additional details. STAT

NATIONAL FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE BOARD

NFIB-86.1/5
17 May 1982

MEMORANDUM FOR: National Foreign Intelligence Board

SUBJECT: DCI Exceptional Intelligence Analyst Program

1. Analysis is a critical element in the intelligence process. Indeed, it is what distinguishes information as more than simply data. Three years ago the DCI Exceptional Intelligence Analyst Program was established as a long-term program to improve the quality of intelligence analysis by providing promising mid-career professionals the opportunity to tailor a training project to their own particular needs. Candidate projects can include sabbaticals at home or abroad, university study, independent research, or temporary assignments to other government agencies. Projects may be undertaken for a period of up to two years, with all training expenses underwritten by the Intelligence Community Staff and salaries continued by the analysts' parent organizations. Additional details on the program have been included in a brochure that will be distributed to your training offices.

2. I am deeply interested in improving intelligence analysis and am convinced that this program can make a very real contribution to that end. I encourage each of you to nominate your very best people, recognizing that the sacrifice of their short-term absence while in training will pay off handsomely in long-term gains. I expect to see the program continue at its present level of activity, i.e., approximately 15 participants at an average cost of $25,000.

3. The Intelligence Community Staff will administer the program this year. I ask that you designate a representative and have his or her name phoned to
